Gans, the colored lightweight, is a hard work to get a light. The strapper has long been after the of Jimmy Britt, but the willy James sally sidestepped and passed Al. fords pet by with a wave of the Tm a featherweight, declares when approached for a match. "My wight is 12s to 13o pounds, and staffed to meet Gans, who weights the Britt's protest fight followed.

solid to meet Gans, who weighs spite Britt's protest, fight followers are the country know full well that Chiornian could make the weight if are to, and the only reason he does hat the colored man on is because he as that Gans is about the toughest collian in the business at present. Alter, Gans's manager, has posted a ford, Gans's manager, has posted at limit, but there is little possibility anatch being made. Britt knows is not the colored man's equal and approbably refuse to consider the salon at all.

Hanlon has won a firm friend and in Bob Deady, the Philadelphia man, who offers to back the little mlan up to 70,000 against Terry Mc-and who says if McGovern accept the offer it is open either to Corbeit Sam Harris, McGovernanager, says if he cannot get a fill Britt he may take on Hanlon.

MONROE FERS THIS MAY

HAPPEN SHULD HE LAND

There are some person who believe that which one to accept.

It is said that he favors the Philadelphia offer, as he would like to give his many friends around New York an opportunity to see him in action. Jack O'Brien messenger boys are alut the slowest tunity to see him in action. Jack O'Brien has been hot after Corbett for some time, and so has Fitzsimmons. With either one of these men as an opponent. Corbett would prove a great attracton, especially those persons care to with the race to day they will learn that yen messengers can "go some" if they carto. The course extends from the Western plon office on Main street to Thirteenth puth Never before in his career has Corbett been taking such good care of himself as he has been taking such good care of himself as he has been taking the bout with Jeffries and the bout that he could put up in a six-round exhibition would be the kind worth going many miles to see. One of Corbett's favorite pastimes is sait of hard work, and since then he has been taking things case, doing light trainling occasionally to keep down to weight. It is said that Corbett scents a match be has his weather eye on the ball.
